

Australian Values and Digital Citizenship

The values outlined in this table may be expressed in different ways by different people while still maintaining the same meaning. They are not unique to Australia but have broad community agreement and underpin Australian society and culture.

(Life in Australia: Australian Values and Principles - Australian Government Immigration and Border Protection)

In this activity the class will be divided into seven 'expert' groups. Each group is allocated one value and will appoint a facilitator and scribe. Discuss what your allocated value means as an Australian citizen and as an Australian digital citizen and record your responses on the sheet.
